

COBOL SOFTWARE ENGINEER INTERN

Role:

How would you like to join an international software development center in Vietnam to learn, to grow personally as well as professionally, and to gain valuable experience in a fast-paced environment?

An exciting INTERN COBOL Software Engineer opening has been available for those who are interested in this career path. This position will be working with ISeries/AS400 to help maintain existing legacy applications that support current business operations and also develop new applications as needed. The ideal candidate should have good IT background and knowledge of software development process as well as possess strong analytical and communications skills.

Responsibilities:

- Develop application program logic from customer-defined specifications
- Analyzes existing program logic to determine best method of accomplishing required changes or cause of program malfunction.
- Performs maintenance and modification of programs currently in production to keep them responsive to user needs and to assure efficient operation in the production environment.
- Apply coding and analytical skills in all phases of the system life cycle
- Prepare program specifications and diagrams, and develops logic flowcharts
- Understand business, technical, and program requirements
- Test, debug, support and maintain application programs for customers in a variety of business areas and environments
- Perform additional duties as required
- Directly report to PM/Team lead

Requirements:

To be successful candidate for this role, you have:

- Bachelor's degree in Computer Science, Information Technology or related field
- 0 year experience
- Be training of COBOL code analyzer software or projects which extracted business logic from mainframe COBOL systems
- Be training of in all aspects of the Software Development Life Cycle (SDLC)
- Be training of with analytical skills and creating program specifications /requirements
- Be training in health insurance programs
- Good English communication skills from Intermediate level
- Good interpersonal and collaboration skills, strong team working ability.